Why now

Three forces are converging to make the next 24 months decisive for our category

01.

Mid-market budgets

Retail and CPG mid-market analytics spend growing 14%+ p.a., outpacing enterprise as suite vendors price out smaller buyers.

02.

First-party data shift

Regulatory and platform changes are forcing a structural shift away from third-party data. First-party customer analytics is the destination.

03.

Predictive becoming table stakes

Customers no longer want dashboards. They want recommendations. Meridian Predict positions us ahead of competitors still selling descriptive analytics.

"The category leaders for the next decade are being chosen now. Mid-market customers are making 5-7 year platform decisions in 2025-2026. We need to be in those conversations."
